

costume/education

Assistant Professor of Theatre, Costume Shop Supervisor
Oklahoma City University
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

Oklahoma City University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Theatre, Costume Shop Supervisor for a professionally based BFA program beginning August 2012.

Duties include:

Instruction of costume technology and laboratory courses

Supervise and coordinate the execution of costumes for the Theatre and Opera/Musical Theatre seasons

Management of costume shop staff and undergraduate student workers

Creative activity relating to field and service on school and university committees

Qualifications:

MFA in costume technology or costume design, costume shop management experience, two or more years of university teaching and mentoring experience, expertise in theatrical costume construction techniques, and experience in mounting productions within a robust production calendar.

The successful candidate will join a growing BFA Design and Production program comprised of six full-time faculty and ten full-time professional support staff members, including a cutter/drafter, first hand, and two stitchers.

Full job description and application procedure at: <http://www.okcu.edu/hr/jobs.aspx>.

Email questions to Ashley Bellet: ambellet@okcu.edu. Review of applications begins February 10th. Position is open until filled.

Oklahoma City University is an equal opportunity employer and affirms the values and goals of diversity.

