

technical/production/education

Assistant Professor of Theatre, Technical Director
Oklahoma City University
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

Oklahoma City University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Theatre, Technical Director for a professionally based BFA program beginning August 2012.

Duties include:

- Instruction of Stagecraft and technical production courses
- Serve as Technical Director for Theatre, Opera, and Musical Theatre productions
- Management of professional scene shop staff
- Mentor design and production students
- Creative activity relating to field and service on school and university committees

Qualifications:

MFA in Technical Direction/Production, scene shop management experience, two or more years of university teaching and mentoring experience, sound design experience is desirable, and experience in mounting productions within a robust production calendar

The successful candidate will join a growing BFA Design and Production program comprised of six full-time faculty and ten full-time professional support staff members, including the Technical Operations Manager, Scenic Artist, and three Scenic Technicians

Full job description and application procedure at: <http://www.okcu.edu/hr/jobs.aspx>.
Email questions to Jeff Cochran: jscochran@okcu.edu. Review of applications begins February 10th. Position is open until filled.

Oklahoma City University is an equal opportunity employer and affirms the values and goals of diversity.

